

Terms and Conditions

(For A-bomb Exhibit and Peace Education Materials)

1. The applicant shall use the materials only as specified in the application (event, purpose, time period, venue, etc.). Any use of the materials beyond that specified in the application requires a new application.
2. The copyrights to the text, photographs, images, and all other content in the materials are held by the Hiroshima Peace Memorial Museum and/or the respective copyright holders. Any reproduction, modification, duplication, transmission, or distribution of the materials, in whole or in part, for personal or commercial use without permission is strictly prohibited. Any secondary use of the material in the form of print or electronic media, on the World Wide Web, or by any other means without permission is also prohibited.
3. Regarding the “Hiroshima” booklet, please print the data and use it as a hard copy, and discard the data after printing. Uploading the data without permission is strictly prohibited.
4. The Museum will pay for outbound shipping only. The “Hiroshima-Nagasaki Atomic Bomb Poster Set” is generally shipped by Surface Air Lifted (SAL).
5. The Museum is not responsible for any failure to deliver or delay in delivery caused by any event reasonably beyond the control of the Museum.
6. Loaned materials must be returned to the Museum’s Outreach Division immediately after use.
7. The applicant must submit a Material Utilization Report after using the materials.
8. The applicant is responsible for any loss or damage to the materials during the loan period, unless otherwise specified by the Museum.
9. The applicant is responsible for any problems or issues arising from the use of the materials.
10. For further information, please contact the Museum’s Outreach Division.
